Ozo Golf Club is one of the most modern high tech golf courses in northern Europe and the very first 18-hole venue in Latvia. It has officially been designated a "National Sports Establishment". Ozo Golf Club's course has 18 holes and its total driving range length is 6,400m. Superbly designed by landscape architect Rob Swedbergs on the shores of Riga's Kisezers Lake, the course has 16 artificial ponds and 50 sand pits. In front of the clubhouse, there is both a chipping green and putting green. Expert instructors await beginners, and corporate outings are also an Ozo Club specialty. Relax, enjoy a fine meal in BLOOM RESTAURANT, a favorite place for both golfers and connoisseurs. With a private/public policy in force, the course is open to everyone, while the changing room, sauna, pool and baggage check - for members only. Ozo Golf Club received recognition in 2002 as the most outstanding landscape architecture project in Latvia, but in 2004 it was selected by Robert Sidorsky as one of 365 courses in the world worth visiting. It is also on the list of Top 100 courses. It carries the title of "Latvian National Sports Establishment", becoming the training center for the Latvian national team. The course holds a multitude of tournaments each season.

White Beach Golf is a links type course. The fairways are wide, well-maintained with a soft turf which protects the players' hands from contusions. The rough is short and there are no big height differences on the course and therefore playing is easy also for seniors. Nevertheless there are no holes, where there isn't a possibility to hit the ball

With an overall elevation change of 40 meters, oak alleys, ancient boulders, and natural ponds the site is befitting of world class golf course. Due to the length and complexity, the Sea Course is a real challenge even for the golfer of the highest skill level. Since 2009, Golf World Magazine has voted the EGCC Sea Course as one of the best European golf courses. Since the Sea Course was first ranked 95th, it has improved its position over time. In 2014, the Sea Course was ranked 83rd in the prestigious TOP 100 with an editor's comment that it could easily end up in the top 50.
